

Institute for Canine Forensics

Specializing in Locating Historic and Prehistoric Burials
A Non-Invasive Search Tool to Locate Human Remains

Dog Archaeologist Magazine

The Magazine for the Discerning Canine Shovelbum
December 2008 Issue $4.95 U.S.

Digging on Site:
Knowing When to Stop Yourself
Are You Sometimes Allowed to Keep the Bones? Our Experts Weigh In
Why urinating in your excavation unit is never okay - one dog's story
The 'CSI Effect' and Dogs: Can We Meet Their Expectations?

Happy April Fools' Day

It's been a strange year since COVID-19 has changed our world. Unfortunately it was not April Fools. We are starting to see the light at the end of the tunnel with people getting vaccinated and the rates of infection slowly dropping. Sometimes we need happy stories, humor and a kind word to stay strong. I thought I would toss some fun pictures in so we can all take a deep breath, smile and be thankful for our health, family and friends.

Lisa with her dog Fionn, and Jett, just hanging around looking cute.
On rare occasions we get the opportunity to get to our search area in style. This was really a project and we all got our own golf cart to cruise around on, way fun.

Kayle does a selfie to show her fan club how special she is.

We take great pride in bending the rules. Many times we are requested to search areas with our dogs where they normally are not permitted or only on leash.

You never know what you will find on a survey. Lynne took this beauty out of harms way as a backhoe was digging.

Sometimes all you need is love.

Clients who had their loved ones cremains returned to them wanted to say thank you to our dogs. They were forewarned that Piper had a big tongue and knows how to use it.

So many wonderful friendships made along the way.
Adela, Lynne at the table with Alex DeGeogey and Michael Newland taking an over the shoulder group selfie.

Conference on Amelia Earhart 2018

Jaime Bach, Lynne and Piper, Dawn Johnson, Barbara Pence

Adela (standing), Carman Lucas, Karen Atkinson, Jett, Jasper and Echo

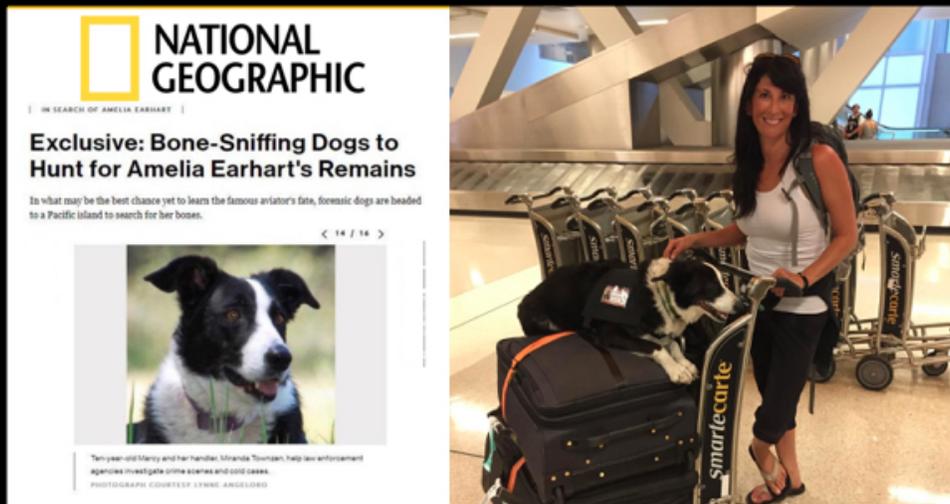

Hey wait for me!

Clidhna follows Jett, her new best friend around. Sometimes the best way to teach a dog new things is to just let them loose to play. Climbing on rubble can be very scary to a young dog. Let them follow an experienced dog and they don't have time to worry.

*Marcy
February 7, 2007 - March 17, 2021*

Marcy, one of our amazing dogs, passed on March 17th. Our hearts go out to her lucky search partner, Miranda Krebs. Marcy and Miranda worked with us for many years, doing cold cases, cremains recovery and the Search for Amelia Earhart, on Nikumaroro in 2017. We will miss that feisty girl.

Please feel free to pass our newsletter along to anyone who might be interested.

Check out our past issues on our website -

CLICK HERE

(650) 503-4473 | info@ICFK9.org | www.ICFK9.org

We are happy to talk with you about your project and how our dogs might help locate human remains or burials.

Call, email, or check out our website.

*Copyright © 2019 Institute for Canine Forensics, All rights reserved.*

Our mailing address is:

Institute for Canine Forensics

P.O. Box 620699

Woodside, CA 94062-0699

Want to change how you receive these emails?

You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

This email was sent to <<Email Address>>
why did I get this? unsubscribe from this list update subscription preferences
Institute for Canine Forensics · P.O. Box 620699 · Woodside, CA 94062 · USA

